HEALTH AND SAFETY STATEMENT

1. Reeth Show Ltd will ensure as far as is reasonably practicable the safety and absence of risks to health at work of all the Society's employees.
2. The Society also undertakes its activities in such a way as to ensure, as far as is reasonably practicable, that persons (not in the Society's employment) namely, officials, stewards, exhibitors, traders and members of the public are not thereby exposed to risks to their safety or health.
3. The Society will bring to the notice of contractors exhibitors and caterers and other participants in events organised by the Society, their duties under the relevant health and safety legislation in respect of the safety and health of their own employees and members of the public who may be affected by their activities.

THORNVILLE SHIELD for best driven Dales pony

To be followed by CONCOURS D'ELEGANCE judged by Tony & Janet Sunter, Grinton

The essence of the class is the word "elegance" and the winner will be the turnout which, in the opinion of the Judge, presents the most elegant effect. To include vehicle, horse, driver, passenger etc, but above all the general impression. Attention may be paid to drivers/passengers personal costume but fancy dress or period costume is definitely barred. The whole object of the class is to establish which turnout presents the most pleasing picture and normal judging criteria does not apply. It is judged from a distance and vehicles are not closely inspected. To be driven at park pace. Young Drivers - attention to young drivers rule.

THOSE YORKSHIRE WOOLLEN MILLS by Josie Whitehead

Haze-cradled hills that embraced the low clouds;
Mists, hung suspended, worn simply as shrouds
Cheerless old factories that glowered at the morn
And the clattering of clogs well before crack of dawn.

Billowing chimneys that choked human goals;
Clattering looms that destroyed human souls;
Mill owners wealthy from poor people's toil
And their wives richly dressed in Victorian spoil.

Mill chimneys governed the old Yorkshire towns;
Hills sent their clear crystal streams tumbling down;
They babbled and chattered, threw care to the sky -
Quite unnoticed, unheeded by those passing by.

Children worked hard for long hours of the day.
Housed but fed little - this just was their pay.
Child-exploitation helped Britain's success
With complete disregard to both hardship or stress.

Working beside both the skilled and unskilled,
In alarming conditions some children were killed.
They were given just one hour of schooling each week
So the future for children like these would be bleak.

Haze-cradled hills may still kiss the low clouds
But the mill-towns today now attract different crowds
For now tourists, with interest, step back in the past
To explore Yorkshire's history and ponder aghast.

Reflecting the past whilst embracing the new
They return to their homes wishing Yorkshire adieu.
Yesterday's world, almost swept out of sight,
Is replaced now with cities that throw out their light.

HANDWRITING

Judge: Mrs Rosemary Walker, Gunnerside

- M184 HANDWRITING, Reception children (age 4-5)

I like the ocean,
I like the sea,
I like the water,
Splashing on me!

M185 HANDWRITING, Year 1 & Year 2 children (age 5-7)

An extract from The Tin Forest by Helen Ward & Wayne Anderson

There once was a forest, near nowhere and close to forgotten that was filled with all the things everyone wanted. And in the middle was a small house and an old man who had toucans, tree frogs and tigers in his garden.

M186 HANDWRITING, Year 3 & Year 4 children (age 7-9)

An extract from The Boy Who Grew Dragons by Andy Shepherd

When people ask me what to grow in Grandad's garden, I think they expect the answer to be cucumbers, tomatoes or runner beans. I don't think they expect the answer to be dragons. But there it is. We grow. And I can tell you this – they're a lot more trouble than cucumbers.

M187 HANDWRITING, Year 5 & Year 6 children (age 9-11)

An extract from the song Gunnerside Gill Remembered

Oh its three long miles to the Blind Gill level
But in all wild weathers we made it.
We got soaked in the rain and got soaked once again
As down in the pit we waded.
I remember lifting buckets full of water from the ground
Over half of a shift or more,
And the water never stopped dripping on us from up top
And the mud never dried on the floor.

Take a walk up the hill along Gunnerside Gill
Every step takes you back in time.
See the hushes and the mills and the levels there still,
And remember the life of the lead mine!

M188 HANDWRITING, For children aged Twelve to Sixteen

Eeeh IT'S GRAND by Josie Whitehead

Our Mum, a right good Yorkshire cook,
Claims not to have a cookery book.
Her apple pie is quite supreme,
If served with cheese and not with cream.

Her Yorkshire pudding is a must:
Soft inside with crispy crust.
Cooked in a tin that's nicely greased,
Then served with beef! Oh what a feast!

Yorkshire fat rascals, you'll agree,
Are at their best washed down with tea.
Packed to the brim with good dried fruit.
Their rascal faces, make them cute.

Another tempting dish to try,
Is not a pudding, cake or pie.
For something special, as a treat,
Yorkshire curd tart's good to eat.

Yorkshire's scenery's the best.
Its good fresh air will help you rest,
But, when you give your friends a call,
Say: 'Yorkshire's food is best of all.'
